The TAs can follow the testing instructions and can produce a coverage report that matches the Emma report that was handed in.	/ 5
The correct portion of the Emma report has been handed in.	/ 1
The majority of the tests described in the testing instructions are based on robustness testing; any tests created as special value testing are clearly labeled as such.	/ 4
There are few extraneous tests included in the testing instructions beyond what is needed to reach the given statement coverage goal.	/ 2
The statement coverage goal has been reached. This must be verified by the TAs following the testing instructions. Point deductions for missing the goal.	-
Included in the testing instructions is one additional useful test plus an explanation of why that test is useful.	/ 3
Raw mark	/ 15
Administrative Penalties (deduct up to 1.5 marks if instructions not followed)
